

Terrorism

Staffordshire Prepared

The threat from terrorism is very real.

Terrorists and extremists work to damage communities, and we all need to work together to tackle the problem. It's everyone's responsibility to work to make communities safer and protect everyone's rights.

Our approach to dealing with terrorism and domestic extremism

Police and partners work together to protect our communities and keep them safe through the national Counter Terrorism Strategy' (CONTEST).

The aim of CONTEST is to reduce the risk from terrorism and domestic extremism so that everybody in Staffordshire can go about their everyday lives freely and with confidence.

We need you!

If you suspect any illegal activity, such as a criminal or anti social act or you have any information which you feel may be of use to us please tell us.

You should also report any attempts to encourage extreme practices and beliefs, or threats of violence, that could disrupt everyday life.

You can do this by:

- Ringing Staffordshire Police on 0300 123 44 55
- Ringing the National confidential anti-terrorism hotline on 0800 789 321
- Ringing CRIMESTOPPERS free on 0800 789321
- Ringing 999 in an emergency
- Talking to your local Police Officers and attending local police meetings (advertised on www.staffordshire.police.uk)
- See www.homeoffice.gov.uk/counter-terrorism/current-threat-level/ for the latest Terrorism Threat Level.
